

PNEUMATIC CYLINDER

This innovative pneumatic cylinder uses sophisticated technology to advance moving parts within a machine. The device is produced in very large quantities with maximum precision and has been optimised to match the technical and commercial design of the machine with a high level of efficiency. The most impressive aspects of this technology are the extreme-speeds/dynamic performance demanded of the device.